PRESS RELEASE

Corvitex and to-BBB join forces to raise funds in the USA

Raleigh (NC, USA), Leiden (Netherlands), October 21st 2009

Corvitex, the US based global market services firm, and to-BBB, the Dutch brain drug-delivery company, have signed a “Marketing & Sales Support Agreement.” The agreement will further to-BBB’s efforts to raise funds in the US and is assisted by the “Marketing and Sales Support Program” initiated by the Dutch Ministry of Economic Affairs.

The goal of this agreement is for Corvitex Corporation to provide marketing support to bring funds into to-BBB and thus, back into the Netherlands. The targeted source of funds include: entering into various US grants and contracts involving brain drug delivery; and closing multifold research and licensing deals between pharma-, biotech companies and to-BBB.

The “Marketing & Sales Support Program” is specifically designed to provide hands-on support to small and medium (SME) sized Dutch enterprises, like to-BBB, to considerably increase the Dutch company’s opportunities with US-based parties. As a successful new business expert, with intricate knowledge in the Medical sector, Corvitex has been brought in to assist to-BBB.

“I am excited about supporting yet another dynamic Dutch enterprise on its way to success in the States. Together we will make to-BBB’s name known at the right points of contact, and open the doors for new business opportunities”, states Tom Nolan, Managing Director Corvitex.

Willem van Weperen, CEO to-BBB says: “We are thrilled to be supported through the Marketing & Sales Support program and therewith get access to the expertise of Corvitex. We have high hopes for success also given our achievement of attracting a US Grant alongside TNO.”
